AN ADVERTISING SUPPLEMENT

Avid boaters Tammie and Kenney Mack Samuels of Bardstown were thrilled when they purchased a 1987 model, 42-foot Jefferson boat. The previous owners had taken excellent care of the boat, but the décor desperately needed to be updated. So the Samuels turned to Tammy and Michael Gadlage of Harrods Creek Marine Supply for help.

Tammy Gadlage met with the Samuels to hear their ideas and preferences for their renovation. Harrods Creek Marine Supply is a necessary stop for boatowners. Besides renovation expertise, they offer custom woodworking, specializing in teak, holly and cherry; special order parts and supplies for boats and a wide variety of stainless steel items for the do-it-yourselfers. "We offer personalized embroidery items to our customers with no minimum requirement. We also offer custom mattresses including memory foam," says Tammy Gadlage. "We have recently added to our ship store to include items such as nautical tote bags, purses and sunglasses."

The Samuels are happy they chose to work with the experts at Harrods Creek Marine Supply, with their suggestions and high-quality workmanship in the redecorating. Now when the Samuels family takes guests boating on the Ohio River, they go in style in their smartly decorated boat.

The master stateroom went from mauve to a neutral color, which accents the vessel's stunning teakwood walls and furniture. A recovered headboard and mattress in a washable rust-colored leather liven the room, and new curtains created in a cream tone are the perfect accent. A seashells nautical theme was chosen by Gadlage for the duvet and two-tone cushions on the pair of settees match the pillows.

The main salon of the boat received new carpeting and a white corner sofa. Tammy Gadlage designed the curtains using thermal suede on the backs to resist mold, keep heat out in the summer, and the cold out in the winter. She then accessorized the room with customized pillows to enhance the red color from the lampshade and flower arrangement.
